

Gomez: The father of the Addams family. He is proud to be a descendant of a long line of Addamses, and it is this pride that motivates him. In particular, his love for his wife, Morticia and his daughter, Wednesday, means he is pulled in different directions in order to appease them both. Must have great comedic timing and sing. Should also be able to move. Spanish accent is a necessity.